Exhibits In Place, Crowds Gather As Annual Columbiana County Fair Opens at Lisbon For 5-Day Run

Sunny but overcast skies prevailed today as the Columbiana County Fair got under way at Lisbon.

The crowds were described as "about average" but were expected to increase tonight when grandstand events are held.

Today was Youth Day at the fair, with school children attending on 22,000 tickets distributed before the close of school last June.

The fair opened this morning after exhibits were placed Monday and the midway concessions were set up.

familiar ferris wheel (center photo) is erected, and at right, 4-H girls and their advisers busily prepare their handicraft displays.

The 4-H Royal Court held sway today, with a showboat program planned at the grandstands tonight at 8.

The fair continues through Saturday with afternoon and evening programs.

Powers' Family Has Last Visit

Parents Leave for Home; Wife Appeals

MOSCOW (AP)—Barbara Powers put on a bright yellow dress today and had a farewell talk with her imprisoned husband, U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

They met at the Soviet Supreme Court building.

A little earlier, his parents, Oliver W. and Ida Ford Powers, spent a last sad hour with their son who has been sentenced to 10 years' detention for espionage.

Neither parents nor wife were able to speak with newsmen when they emerged. They were all obviously overcome with emotion.

When Barbara came out she shielded her face with her hand. Her mother, Mrs. Monteene Brown of Milledgeville, Ga., ran interference for her as she dashed to a limousine for the drive back to the hotel.

This was the first time since her arrival in Moscow that Barbara had worn a bright color. She did so today because her husband likes her in yellow.

Powers sent word to his father to "please bring money" to their last meeting, so that the flier can buy cigarettes and other small items in jail. Powers also said he could use a watch. His own watch was forfeited to the Soviet state treasury under the terms of his sentence along with other valuables he had when captured.

"My watch only cost $49.50," the elder Powers told newsmen, "but it's a good watch. It cannot compare with the one he had, but I am mighty proud to give it to him."

Barbara Powers also was to see her husband, but after his parents visited him.

Barbara waited anxiously for a reply to a three-page, handwritten letter she dispatched to Nikita Khrushchev Monday, asking the Soviet premier to see her so she could appeal for clemency for her husband.

Khrushchev is vacationing at Yalta, on the Black Sea, and there is no word when he will be back in Moscow.

In the letter Barbara begged Khrushchev to see her as soon as possible. She said she would fly to Yalta if necessary.

Star Gazers Invite Public to Viewing

Several Salem area amateur astronomers will hold a public star party Wednesday night from 9 to 11 at the southeast playground of Buckeye School.

About five telescopes will be available to the public for observation of several of the more conspicuous objects in the night sky. If the sky is cloudy, the event will be postponed until Thursday night.

Tentative objects to be viewed include Jupiter and its four small moons; Saturn; the Echo I satellite; Albiro, a blue and gold double star; the setting crescent moon; a nebula, and a star cluster.

The committee in charge of the event includes Vincent Taus, chairman, Bob Broomall and Gordon Scullion. Anyone else who has a telescope and would like to bring it will be welcome.

Outcome Forecast As Extremely Close

Senate to Vote on Medic Bill Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The politically charged issue of whether to write a medical care plan into the social security system comes to a head in the Senate today with an extremely close vote forecast.

The Senate agreed to vote by 6 p. m. EDT, after a third day of debate over rival plans to help elderly persons meet their medical costs.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, No. 2 man on the ticket, put their prestige on the line with all-out support of the social security approach.

President Eisenhower and the Republican nominee to succeed him, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, just as strongly oppose this method.

Nixon favors a rival health benefit insurance plan sponsored by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY). Eisenhower has not specifically endorsed this but administration officials said Monday it was consistent with principles he has advocated.

Both parties believe that at least to some extent the outcome will affect the votes of 16 million Americans over 65. Also concerned are many younger persons now

Lyricist Dies of Lung Cancer at 65

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Oscar Hammerstein II, whose magic lyrics have brought laughter and tears to Americans for 40 years, died of stomach cancer today at the age of 65.

His death at his beloved country home of Highland Farms, far from the glitter of Broadway, ended one of the brightest careers in theatrical history.

The big gentle man who penned the words of such songs as "Ol' Man River," "Who?" "The Last Time I Saw Paris," "When I Grow Too Old to Dream," "Only Make Believe," "Some Enchanted Evening" and "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," died shortly after midnight.

His lyrical gift helped fashion a brilliant string of musical shows that have become popular classics, from "Rose Marie," "The Desert Song," and "Show Boat," down through "Oklahoma," "South Pacific," "The King and I," and currently the Broadway smash "The Sound of Music."

Since his collaboration with composer Richard Rodgers in 1942, the names of the two men have become a theatrical tradition.

Asked once what he deemed the most profound change in modern musical theater, song writer Cole Porter, a musical giant in his own right, replied: "Rodgers and Hammerstein."

There first effort was "Oklahoma!" When the curtain rose on that show in March 1943, it took Broadway by storm.

Critics and drama historians alike hailed it as a turning point in theater, a fresh integrated production that kicked traditional musicals into the discard.

"Oklahoma!" ran on Broadway for five years and nine weeks—an all-time record for a musical. It became something of a folklore itself and inspired a new school of musical shows.

While "Oklahoma!" ran its successful course, Rodgers and Hammerstein turned their hand to other shows.

By 1960 eight more musicals had been created, nearly all of them major triumphs, including "Carousel," "Allegro," "Me and Juliet," "Pipe Dream," and "Flower Drum Song."

Hammerstein continued to work all though plagued by the growing pains of cancer. Early this month those close to him knew he could not last much longer.

At his bedside when he died at 12:20 a. m. were a nurse and two doctors. In a room nearby were his wife, Dorothy, his daughter, Mrs. Philip Mathias, and his sons, William and James. He had been in a coma since Monday evening.

Three Are Fined In Eastern County Court

Noah C. Crawford, 34, of 393 W. State St., was fined $10 for speeding by Judge Earl Spalding Monday in the Eastern Division Columbiana County Court at East Palestine.

Warren W. Andrews, 37, of RD 2, East Palestine, was fined $35 and costs for driving without a license.

Albert M. Baron, 44, of Struthers, was fined $100 and given a three-day jail sentence after being found guilty by Judge Spalding for driving while intoxicated.

Woman 'Poor' After Mishap

Motorcycle Rams Husband's Car

A woman motorcyclist is in poor condition in East Liverpool Osteopathic Hospital this morning with injuries suffered Monday afternoon when her motorcycle ran into the rear of her husband's car.

State Highway Patrolmen at Lisbon said the woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts, 21, of RD 1, Hammondsville, received severe abrasions of the entire body, fractures of the left leg and right arm and a deep puncture wound of the right leg.

Patrolmen said she was following her husband, Arthur, in a northerly direction on the Old Steubenville Pike, about one half mile south of Highlandtown at 4:35 p. m. when he stopped to pick up some hitchhikers. She apparently was unable to stop, patrolmen said, and rammed into the rear of the car.

The mishap is still under investigation.

Motorist is Arrested

Jonathon Nicholson, 46, of North Benton, was charged with driving while intoxicated at 5 p. m. after his car ran into the rear of one driven by Clarence Broadwater, 37, of Canton, on Rt. 30, one half mile south of Lisbon. Patrolmen said Broadwater was making a right turn when the accident happened.

Facing charges of failure to stop in the assured clear distance and driving without a license is Woodrow Dean Jr., 20, of 1045 Parkside Ave., Alliance, after his car ran into the rear of one driven by Charles Willard, 40, of RD 5, Homeworth, at 4:50 p. m. on County Road 401, two miles south of Rt. 62. Willard was making a right turn, patrolmen said.

Glenn Hall, 31, of 1902 Nevada St., Wellsville, was charged with making an improper turn at 4:20 p. m. after his car and one driven by Denzil Mockenberry, 30, of RD 2, Fredericktown, collided on Rt. 170, one-half mile north of Rt. 30. Hall was making a left turn when the collision occurred.

The crashshaft on a car driven by Norman Kirksey, 42, of 342 N. Webb St., Alliance, broke at 9:50 p. m. last night while Kirksey was

E. Liverpool Cab Robbery Points To Ohio Fugitive

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—A cab driver was robbed of $20 during the night and law officers are speculating that the culprit might have been Bob Johnson, 22, pal of Gordon (Spunky) Firman.

Wayne De Lauder, of Wellsville, picked up a fare at the edge of East Liverpool early today and was told to drive to Wellsville. Later he was told to double back to East Liverpool. The passenger stuck a gun in the back of his neck and took the money. The robber made his getaway in a waiting automobile.

Herman Wellman, Columbiana County deputy, said the robber's description sounded like that of Johnson. He and Firman have been hunted in eastern Ohio since last Wednesday night, when Firman used the threat of gunfire to get Johnson out of the Coshocton County Jail. The pair was believed to have committed a night club holdup in Steubenville early Monday.

Friends Open Conference

Delegates Respond To Roll Call Today

The 147th session of Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends opened this morning in Damascus, with Ora Lovell, professor of Bible, Greek and other related subjects at Malone College in Canton, as presiding clerk.

Church members and delegates from 90 churches in seven states were on hand. The sessions will continue through Sunday.

Rev. Ralph Smallwood, pastor of the First Friends Church in Cleveland, called the names of the delegates. Mr. Smallwood is editor of the "Evangelical Friend," monthly publication of Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends.

Kenneth Headland is serving as recording clerk and Charles Robinson is announcing clerk and acting page.

Following the roll call of delegates this morning, a message was preached by the Rev. Handy Herbert. Dr. Walter R. Williams then gave the superintendent's report. Dr. Williams is serving as acting superintendent of the early meeting in the absence of Dr. Everett Catell who has been released to become president of Malone College.

Dr. Williams has served a number of years in China as a missionary. He is author of a book entitled, "Me and My House" and is in the process of publishing another book which will be released soon.

At 1:30 this afternoon, a meeting of the Ministry and Oversight body was slated. This body consists of ministers of all the churches and representatives from the church board.

Following this meeting, there will be two missionary services held. One is a woman's missionary rally at which the speakers will be Miss Anna Nixon and Mrs. Milton Coleman. The other meeting will be the Men in Missions with speaker Milton Coleman.

A gospel service, led by Dr. Royal S. Woodhead, will top off this evening's activities.

CAR FIRE CHECKED Salem firemen were called to a parking lot behind the Slovak Club on S. Ellsworth Ave. at 6:22 p. m. last night when the back seat of a car caught fire. Fire Chief Clarence Wright said cause of the fire was a cigarette. The car was owned by William Sofsak, of 1490 Southeast Blvd.

2 Hospital Inmates Admit Stranglings

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Two teen-age inmates of Gallipolis State Hospital were to undergo of Toledo, showed the man had been strangled.

Dr. Warehime earlier had signed certificates giving heart conditions as the cause of death for Flora and the other two patients, William Murphy, 41, of Lucasville, and Paul Cross, 41, of Cincinnati.

Hospital Supt. Dr. George R. Roberts said the deaths were thought at first to be natural because the victims were in wards set aside for extremely ill patients and because there were no marks of strangulation or violence on any of the bodies.

Roberts said the teen-agers Robert Brown, 18, of Chillicothe, and John Turner, 14, of Hamilton County, admitted strangling the three men "for kicks."

Officials said Brown has the mental capacity of an 8-year-old while Turner has the mind of a 6-year-old.

The hospital superintendent said the boys told him they would have killed more patients if they hadn't been discovered.

The discovery came about after an unidentified 39-year-old patient was found Sunday night with a towel and sheet twisted around his neck. Although turning blue he was revived, Roberts said.

Another patient said he saw Brown come out of the room where the man was found. Under

May Ask Reds Be Condemned

Accuses Cuba of Training Spies

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will warn the Latin American nations today that they — not the United States — are most menaced by communism's attempt to infiltrate the Western Hemisphere via Cuba.

Herter, laying down a hard U.S. line toward Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime, was expected to urge the foreign ministers' conference of the Organization of American States to condemn Red Chinese-Soviet threats to the hemisphere. It was not known whether he would back Argentina's plan for a special conference to chart plans for a democratic counter-offensive.

Herter's speech late this afternoon follows a new U.S. memorandum to the conference accusing Cuba of training spies and guerrillas to spread Communist revolution throughout the hemisphere.

The tough U.S. stand chilled hopes of some Latin American delegates that they could arrange some procedure to mediate differences between the United States and Fidel Castro's regime.

The nine-page U.S. memorandum to the OAS Peace Committee supplemented an earlier 78-page report. Besides charging that international brigades are being trained in Cuba to carry the Red message to other Latin American nations, the new memo noted recent Cuban moves to suppress "the remaining vestige of individual liberty in Cuba — religious freedom."

Cuba's OAS ambassador, Carlos Lechuga, termed the report "totally false." Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa was expected to demand sanctions against the United States, charging economic aggression against Cuba.

Argentina's proposal called for another conference within 90 days to prepare a draft treaty of methods "for prevention and eradication of the Communist movement in the hemisphere." Initial reaction to the proposal was cool.

The United States was considered likely to get a good response to its request for a strong stand against Soviet infiltration in

Friends Missionaries Tour Europe on Leave from Duties

Rev. and Mrs. Milton E. Coleman of Chhatapur, India, Friends missionaries, who have a 14-year service record, left Bombay June 9 enroute to the U.S. on a furlough.

They arrived in the States July 26 and visited relatives and friends in the east before coming to Damascus last week to attend the 147th annual sessions of Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends which opened today.

The Rev. Coleman has written the following account of their visit in Europe on the way to America. "A few days after our 12-year-old daughter, Carol Jean, had finished her sixth grade at Woodstock School in Mussoorie, U.P., India, two other students joined our party and we boarded a ship bound for Naples."

Enroute Mrs. Coleman and Carol Jean took a side trip to Cairo on a tour arranged by the ship's company where they visited the museum, sphinx, and pyramids.

"The Volkswagen awaiting us at Naples had had to be ordered six months earlier to ensure delivery. Looking at our mound of luggage designed to meet our requirements for the next three and one-half weeks of travel I wondered how that midget car would ever make the Alpine grades. But it did, seldom uttering a groan!"

"We had never dreamed old Pompei was so big nor so completely inundated by lava and ash centuries ago. But its ugliness was soon forgotten in the breathtaking beauty along the famed 100-mile Amalfi Drive jutting out toward the Isle of Capri. Around Naples we found some of the world's sweetest peaches and black cherries."

"It's no joke that all roads lead to Rome. As we drove via Cassino, the cradle of the Benedictine Order founded in the sixth century, we were surprised to note some Oriental modes of living. Country women carried loads on their heads and men still plow with oxen or cows as much as with horses or tractors."

"In Rome preparations for the coming Olympic games were much in evidence. Still there were streams of tourists reverently visiting St. Paul's, St. Peter's, and the catacombs while others hurried through museums and along the ancient Appian Way."

"Next day we went to Florence. Its famous bridges, art galleries, chapels, and tombs should be allowed weeks for a visit instead of the two days we could spare. We saw superbly beautiful mosaics in Ravenna, and the tomb of Dante, before hurrying on via a good autostrada (turnpike) to Venice. For a variation here we hired equipment and camped for two nights. It saved us money but we got quite wet and only a little sleep during a cloudburst the first night."

"The Italian Alps loomed gorgeous as we 'bugged' along on 34 miles to the galled through Cortina, home of the Italian winter Olympics, up over Brenner Pass into Innsbruck, Austria. Next day we worshipped at a Lutheran Church there before crossing into Germany to spend the next two days with friends near Munich."

"The highlight of our trip was the Passion Play at Oberammergau. The play is presented every 10th year and for the other nine years this town of about 5,000 population lives principally by the craft of woodcarving."

"Our greatest thrill was followed by a keen disappointment. It rained nearly all our time in Switzerland and through the mountains of southern France. Luzern and Interlaken were superbly beautiful, but so far as we saw, the skyline was only clouds. The Louvre, Notre Dame Cathedral, Arch of Triumph, Eiffel tower all met our expectations. But the people seemed to show signs of unrest and appeared rather fed up with tourists. We visited also the American Church in Paris, the first American Church founded (1814) on foreign soil and the oldest American institution in Europe."

"In Brussels we stopped at the headquarters for 57 missionary societies working in the Congo and were just in time to meet the superintendent hurrying for an appointment with the Swedish Ambassador to arrange emergency aid or evacuation of missionaries from the Congo as might be required."

"Next day we attended the flower auction at Allmeers near Amsterdam, where, like cattle in some western city, tons of roses, gladioli, carnations, and rare varieties as only Holland produces, are sold by auction daily."

"On the evening of July 25 we were thrilled again by a glimpse in the distance of the Statue of Liberty, welcoming travelers both new and returning, to the shores of our great country."

Marines 'Help' Stranger with Practical Joke

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Melvin Miller, Peoria's Pride today was the man of the hour in this seaside resort.

"All kinds of offers to entertain Mel during his week here are coming in — many from Hollywood," said Capt. Joe Gestson, crew-cut Marine whose million-to-one long distance telephone call led to "Melvin Miller Week."

But movie stars will have to drive the 60 miles from Hollywood if they want to see Melvin, 40, a tractor factory foreman in the Illinois city. He'll be too busy having fun in the Laguna sun to visit them.

The saga of Melvin Miller began last fall when Gestson and a few of his cronies from the nearby Camp Pendleton and El Toro Marine bases decided to live up a dull Asahor Day with a practical joke or two.

Gestson, 32, a Korea war veteran, loves jokes, especially when they involve a telephone. So just for a gag, he put in a call to Peoria and wound up talking to Melvin Miller—a name he picked out of the air.

Melvin thought he was being kidded by a Peoria prankster, but he and Gestson chatted amiably. Gestson called Melvin several times after that and they became long distance buddies. Then Gestson thought up "Melvin Miller Week." The joke caught on among Gestson's fun-loving friends. Soon close to $300 in contributions had rolled in — and Melvin was California-bound.

Cards, calls and offers poured in after The Associated Press carried the story last Saturday. From South Bend, Ind., came an offer to supply all the autos for the motorcade, to meet Melvin at Los Angeles Airport Aug. 31.

From Florida, Joe Younce telephoned Gestson to bring Melvin to Tallahassee to show that "Florida will outdo anything California can do."

In Peoria, Melvin, said: "I just gave up trying to figure this thing out."

Here's How Ohio Congressmen Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's two Democratic senators—Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young—voted the same way only once in five recent roll calls, the record indicates.

Both voted against an amendment to exempt employees of retail and service establishments from the minimum wage bill when the establishments have a dollar volume more than half of which is in intrastate commerce. The amendment, introduced by Sen. Holland (D-Fla.), was rejected 39-56.

Otherwise, the record shows: On Holland (D-Fla.) amendment, rejected 42-56, to make minimum wage bill provide that, except as otherwise provided by law, the secretary of labor shall have no power to regulate wage or hours of agricultural workers.

For—Lausche, Against—Young. On Dirksen (R-Ill.) amendment, rejected 39-54, to substitute for minimum wage bill a measure making minimum wage $1.15 an hour instead of $1.25, and covering fewer workers:

For—Lausche, Against—Young. On motion, adopted 50-48, to table Monroney (D-Okla.) amendment which would have limited minimum wage bill coverage of retail and service establishments to firms operating in more than one state.

For—Young, Against—Lausche. On passage, 62-34, of bill to raise minimum wage to $1.25 an hour and bring additional workers under wage hour law:

For—Young, Against—Lausche.

EMBEZZLER GETS CHANCE CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Otis Hess has agreed to hear a probation report in Common Pleas Court on Roy Brown, 50, admitted embezzler, before passing sentence. Brown pleaded guilty Monday to embezzlement indictments totaling $31,341 from two building and loan associations.

Brown said in court he had been paying extortion money to a man who threatened harm to him or his daughter. Brown said the man robbed his hardware store five years ago, and threatened him with death if he reported it.

4 Are Hurt In 5 Local Car Mishaps

Police investigated five traffic accidents in the last 24 hours. Four persons were injured.

A Youngstown woman, Mary B. Darling, 64, suffered contusions and abrasions of the body and a sprain of the back when the car she was driving ran into the former Assembly of God Church, Howard Ave. and W. State St. at 7:02 p.m. Monday.

Police said Mrs. Darling was attempting to make a turn off State St. onto N. Howard Ave. when she lost control, sending the car into the building.

A passenger, Anthony Darling, 67, of Youngstown, suffered cuts of the forehead, wrist and both knees. They were taken to Central Clinic for treatment.

Mrs. Darling forfeited a $20 bond in Mayor Dean Cramer's traffic court on a charge of reckless operation as a result of the accident.

Joseph C. Shields, 32, of East Palestine, suffered cuts over both eyes and possible fractures of the clavical and ribs at 1:40 a.m.

This morning when the car he was driving went on State St. went out of control and hit a parked car just east of Lincoln Ave. The force of the collision sent the parked car owned by Al Zoccolo of Rea Dr. 33 feet forward, knocking off two parking meters.

Shields admitted to Central Clinic, was charged with reckless operation.

He was reported in good condition this morning.

John F. Gallagher, 64, of 379 Sharp Ave. was charged with reckless operation, at 8:38 p.m. Monday after his car hit a parked car, owned by Bernetta Maenz, of 528 Stewart Ave., in the 800 block of Prospect St.

David Brown, 17, of 246 E. 7th St. suffered brush burns and bruises of the body when his motorcycle became involved in a collision with a car driven by Frank Sabo, 47, of 1788 Fairview St., on N. Ellsworth Ave., at 7th St. Police said both vehicles were headed south and Brown attempted a turn into 7th St. when the mishap occurred.

Robert Johns of 243 W. 2nd St. reported his car was damaged by a hit-run motorist shortly after midnight last night. He said the car was parked in the 700-block of Franklin Ave. when hit.

supporting aged relatives.

The Javits proposal was to be voted on first, to be followed if it is beaten by a vote on the social security amendment offered by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) with Kennedy's backing.

The Anderson amendment would raise the social security payroll tax 14 per cent each on worker and employer, bringing in a billion dollars to finance medical benefits at age 68 for those covered by the system.

Benefits would include hospital and home nursing care, home health services, and diagnostic outpatient hospital services including X-rays and laboratory.

Sponsors said the benefits package was kept relatively modest so that experience could be gained in a new program. They estimated the annual cost at 600 to 700 million dollars, and said the types of payments could be expanded later if these figures proved accurate.

The Javits proposal calls for 900 million dollars annually in federal, state grants, split equally, to help pay for three alternative types of health insurance protection for old persons.

The New Yorker said this would be a voluntary program, with the states participating as they saw fit. The beneficiary also would have to pay at least a minimum fee and thus would have a stake in operation of the program, he said.

Drivers Pay $270 In Lisbon Court

LISBON — Sixteen motorists forfeited bonds totaling $270 Monday in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court when they failed to appear for scheduled hearings.

Fifteen were for speeding, after being cited in a speed-meter check on Route 45 north of Lisbon Sunday afternoon. The zone is outside village limits but is reduced to 45 mph.

Vincent Metzger, 50, of Willowick, forfeited $20 bond for crossing the yellow line in a hazardous zone.

Thomas McCarthy, 21, of Niles, $25 bond for operating a motor vehicle with expired operator's license.

Forfeiting $15 bonds each for speeding were:

Dwight Linger, 45, and James Greer, 29, both of Warren; Martin E. Carpenter, 28, of Alliance; Dominick Minetti, 42, of Painesville; Thomas McCarthy of Niles; Eugene Pride, 26, William G. Oiser, 32, Dominic Santilli, 58, and Fred G. Smith, 25, all of Cleveland.

Charles Harmon, 29, of Detroit; Delbert Titus, 38, of Bobtown, Pa.; Everett J. Dennis, 34, of Twinsburg; Goldie E. Huskin, 30, of Cortland; Robert D. Dennis, 39, of Ravenna and Walter Geisel, 43, of Adah, Pa.

All were cited by the State Patrol.

Boy, 16, Sentenced For Truck Theft

LISBON — Vernon Etters, 16, of Minerva Rd 1 was sentenced to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster after a hearing Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

Etters, who is a ward of the county welfare department, had stayed with James T. Vincent, Salem RD 3, and had gone in the home and took some money and then went out to the barn and took a truck. Thursday afternoon, officials said.

Two other boys, Jerry Esterly, 13, of Salem D 3 and Arthur Orleio, 14, of 991 E. 6th St., Salem, were exonerated by the court after it was admitted by Etters that he told the youths he had permission to drive the truck.

Esterly is in the South Side Hospital with a broken leg, cuts and body abrasions. Etters and Orleio were treated for minor injuries after the truck Etters was driving went left of center and struck a tractor-trailer on Route 224 Friday morning.

The truck driver, Kenneth Durbin of Decatur, Ind., was not injured.

Commissioners Back, Let Contract Awards

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners, back from Miami, Fla., Monday awarded two contracts to Meek Stationary Co., East Palestine, for 2,500 tax duplicate auditors and treasurer offices at a low bid of $233.75 and 10,000 memo-duplicate certificates of titles for clerk of courts office at a cost of $154.50.

The board also approved a $300 grant each to Washington, Fairfield and St. Clair townships for road repairs.

They also approved the expenses of Dog Warden Russel Reichenbach who attended the eastern Ohio Dog Wardens Association meeting at Sandusky Aug. 17.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Thursday. They had no meetings last week as the three, Frank Wilson, Walter Hunston and R. Max Gard attended the national county office holders meeting at Miami, Fla.

There are 104,427 public elementary schools in the continental United States.

questioning. Brown admitted the attack, then confessed to strangling the other three patients and implicated Turner, who confessed his part, Roberts said.

Cross died the night of Aug. 12, Flora last Thursday night and Murphy Friday night.

The boys said they lured Cross and Flora into a toilet and strangled them with sheets, and also used a sheet to strangle Murphy while he was sleeping.

Roberts said it will be at least four days before microscopic study of Murphy's body shows if he, too, was strangled, as the boys claim.

The body of Cross already has been buried. Coroner Warehime said he hasn't decided yet whether to exhume the body for an autopsy.

Hospital officials said the three victims would have been too weak to defend themselves against the boys.

The youths were en route Monday night to Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane for observation, but were returned to Gallipolis for further questioning by the coroner and Ohio Highway Patrol, apparently because of the findings.

Roberts said the boys never have been declared psychotic and thus possibly could be charged with murder.

Injury Jinx Trails East Palestine Team

EAST PALESTINE — Jim Wisser, star fullback and co-captain of the East Palestine High School football squad, is reported to be recovering satisfactorily at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Youngstown from an eye injury suffered during the opening day of football practice Friday.

Wisser, a senior, is believed to have been struck in the eye with a knee or elbow during practice. There was considerable hemorrhaging and it was feared for a time that the youth might lose the sight from his eye.

He is expected to be ready to return to football practice in a week or two.

Two other Bulldog football prospects were injured, neither seriously, in an auto accident at 8:10 p.m. Monday on Bacon Ave.

Eugene Moss, 16, of RD 1, East Palestine, suffered a cut nose and rib injuries and Richard Nealis, 17, of New Waterford Road, lacerations of his face and knee when their car left the highway and struck a utility pole.

Moss, the driver, was cited to juvenile court in Lisbon on a reckless driving charge. Damage to the 1958 station wagon, owned by Moss' father, was estimated at $600.

Moss is a back and Nealis a lineman on Coach Howard Weyers' Bulldog football squad.

Rt. 644 Resurfacing Project Will Start

State Highway Department Division Deputy Director William P. McKenna announced today that work will begin this week on widening and resurfacing five miles of State Route 644 in Columbiana and Carroll Counties.

The project begins in Salineville and runs through Summitville. Contractor on the project is Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia. Completion is set for October.

The nickname for women serving in the U. S. Navy is WAVES, which stands for Women Accepted for Volunteer Emergency Service.

Curbstone Comments

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato: Are you grown up? If you really are, you are a rarity. Perhaps you belong in the Smithsonian Institution.

One of the most shocking discoveries that can come to a person in middle age—if he is honest with himself — is the realization that he has changed little from the person he was as a child.

The only thing that consoles him, as he peers more closely at his middle-aged neighbors, is the discovery that they too aren't really grown up—they are merely enlarged children.

When young, we yearn desperately to be grown up, figuring that mere size and time will magically make us able to solve all our problems and get everything we want from life.

Well, it doesn't often work out that way.

As adults we are indeed bigger and older. But we have grown up only physically; emotionally we are still back in kindergarten—and there most of us stubbornly stay most of our days.

What is the most outstanding characteristic of the ordinary child, even the most angelic? Surely it is his determination to have his own way, to bend the whole vast world he was born into.

Frustrated, he howls and shakes to his own imperious will. His tiny fists in anger.

He is an outrageous capitalist and show-off from the moment he takes his first step. He wants to win everything that catches his eye, and he wants to be admired for everything he does.

If he loses at a game and weeps and is told he should be "a good sport," he asks practically, "Why?" His theory is that if the other kids won't play his way, he'll play by his marbles and go home. He tends, by human nature, to be vain, arrogant and full of self-pity.

Life is full of one disappointment after another as it curbs his behavior and forces him to be more social. But inwardly his desires rage and riot as strong as ever.

As a youth he is confident that when he is an adult he will at last be free to have his own way and live his own life. He is optimistically certain that the petty restrictions will end, that he will find the perfect friend, meet and marry the perfect wife, seek and land the perfect job.

We find as the years roll on that our friends are as pitted with faults as we are, our wives are little better than those of our neighbors, and the perfect job is always beyond our reach.

True maturity consists in making the best of what life brings us, in realizing there is always a necessary compromise between dream and reality. If you can do that, you have truly grown up.

But who among us wants to be this mature? Secretly, in our heart of hearts, we still want what we can't have. We remain vain, selfish, arrogant, envious and full of self-pity.

We learn to camouflage our actions because we have to. But now and again the rebel breaks through, and you see grownup people behaving as childish as they really are.

Then we say in surprise, "Why, he acts like he's in his second

Cabot Lodge Is Creditable

The remarkable thing about Henry Cabot Lodge, who on Sept. 2 will leave his post as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations to start campaigning as Republican vice presidential nominee, is the enthusiasm he already has generated among voters.

With the exception of a few Republicans who have not forgiven him for leading the campaign to nominate Dwight E. Eisenhower at the expense of their choice, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, people in all parts of the country and in both parties find him credible and attractive.

This must be due to his own palpable sincerity as a spokesman for internationalism. He came home from his combat experience in World War II with a strong conviction that his famous grandfather's isolationist thinking had been wrong. This motivated his effort in behalf of the Eisenhower candidacy; he mistrusted Sen. Taft as a one-time isolationist.

It is history that Lodge spent so much time on the Eisenhower candidacy in 1952 that he neglected his own political fences in Massachusetts and was defeated for the U.S. Senate by John F. Kennedy. But the defeat freed him for greater service in the U.N. post, just as Kennedy's defeat in his bid for a vice presidential nomination in 1956 cleared the way for him to become the Democratic presidential candidate in 1960.

Ambassador Lodge may be the most surprising plus factor in the 1960 campaign. Events and his ability to command respect have placed him in a favorable position.

There is no part of this country he cannot go to with assurance of a respectful hearing. This will be his signal advantage over Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, his counterpart on the Democratic ticket. Americans respect Sen. Johnson for his reputation as a legislative manager, but his strong coloration as a regionalist makes him provincial compared with Ambassador Lodge.

New Job Skill: Capsule-Catcher

The Distinguished Flying Cross that Capt. Harold Mitchell of the U. S. Air Force was awarded after his plane caught the Discover XIV capsule in the air attests to the importance of the mission accomplished by him and his crew.

The history of space conquest, when it's written, will attest to the significance of the technique that Capt. Mitchell and his crew used when their plane snagged and brought to earth the first space capsule ever handled in this manner.

Until a technique can be perfected to catch the vehicles that ultimately will carry men into space and back, the conquest of space will be incomplete. The alternative is to let them fall into the water when they come back to earth, and that is not satisfactory.

It is not certain that aerial snagging will be satisfactory either. But at the moment it has been made worth trying by one successful demonstration. It must be noted, however, that of nine planes in the squadron assigned to the demonstration, only Capt. Mitchell's plane was in the right position at the right time to make the catch.

The feat was analogous to nine baseball players fielding a ball hit just inside third base and snagged in a desperate lunge by the third baseman. The next time the third baseman may miss it by a step and there would go the ball game.

All of us going about our routine jobs are amazed by the incredible stunts and accomplishments of the missileers. From a time not long ago when so many things were turning out badly, we have moved into a time when many things are turning out well.

In the tense race to put a human being into space and bring him back to earth alive, the United States may not be first. But it now is a safe bet this country will be no worse than a close second.

When the Living Is Easy

"Summertime, when the living is easy . . . When a prudent gardener can nip out to the corn patch and carry back an armful of prime sweeties, to be popped into a pot, or roasted as 'roasting ears' used to be;

When the carrots are crisp and crunchy, the baby beets are ready to give their lives for the improvement of mankind, the snap beans are just right for snapping in the shade of a tree and the tomatoes are bursting with their exuberant goodness;

And peaches with the bloom of youth on their unshaved skins are ready to spread gladness and peach juice, the early transplants have fulfilled their destiny of pie-filling and applesauce making and the first melons and cucumbers have challenged the digestive flexibility of the human body. . . .

There is all this and much more — plums, chard, beet greens, peppers and the prospect of pendulous bunches of grapes. Life is luxury against a backdrop of gladioli, a cup that runneth over flavored with essence of nasturtium and rose.

Now if ever come the perfect days that so rarely show up in June . . . now, when the living is easy and abundant and full of the flavor of summer.

Once Over

Tiffany will conduct court fight against new restaurant in Central Park, New York, and we can imagine this recording:

Judge: How come the house of Tiffany figures in the issue of dinner in a park restaurant?

A: Diamonds are a litigant's best friend. Q: Is a park less a park because the public can dine in it?

A: That's a 14-carat question, but it has a flaw in it. We hold that parks should be left to nature.

Judge: This restaurant is designed by a noted architect and would seem to add to park charm.

A: Park beauty should be left to nature, not to architects, waiters, chefs and indoor orchestras.

Q: Has not Huntington Hartford a high regard for parks?

A: His interest has been largely in groceries rather than in ponds, swans and vistas.

Q: But don't the plans show this is a jewel of a restaurant in a de luxe setting?

A: No restaurant, however good, comes under the heading of precious or semiprecious. Q: Do you submit that statement as a pearl of wisdom?

A: No, but I detect a note of hostility here in which it would seem the court is casting the first stone.

Court: My watch shows the hour is getting late, and it is a Tiffany watch. Let's hear from the park commissioner. Mr. Commissioner, what is your view of this proposed restaurant?

A: I think it is an ornament and, so far as the city is concerned, an INEXPENSIVE ONE, which I hope is not why Tiffany objects.

Q: What can a customer get in a park restaurant that he can't get outside the park?

A: Cross ventilation, more discriminating squirrels and a type of bird life that appreciates buttered toast.

Q: Don't you think there are enough restaurants in the immediate area?

A: Where else but in this one can you get a $2 club sandwich with an extra slice of bread and a view of a lake, a Japanese

Welcome, Friends

The 147th session of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends opened today at the meeting grounds and headquarters in nearby Damascus.

The conference, a high point in the religious life of the Quakers and their descendants, is attracting worshippers from the states of Ohio, Michigan, Iowa, Virginia, North Carolina, Rhode Island and Pennsylvania, with several representatives from Canada and missionaries home on furlough from India. Formosa and India are the Friends' principal missionary fields, where they work unceasingly in behalf of Christianity.

The Ohio Yearly Meeting has been held at Damascus since 1929 and prior to that alternated with Mount Pleasant, O., as the meeting site. On this 147th anniversary meeting we are happy to extend greetings again from the greater Salem area.

Running True to Form

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

DIJON, France — Since Khrushchev's summit performance.

Where I could, I retraced Chairman Khrushchev's trail. I discovered that what he had intended to be a tour de force was in reality a tour de farce.

Whether it was the priest-mayor of this wine town, who was so cordial to the Soviet Premier, or the sailors of Toulon's naval base, or the militant longshoreman of Marseilles who once threatened to dump our guns and cargo into the sea—they disdain the Communists.

The people everywhere on the Continent, where they are not contained by bayonets, are weary with collectivism and even traditional socialism.

They like free enterprise and private ownership. Everywhere they are abandoning Marxism and the jargon of seizure by the people of the means of production.

I laughed in a southern village, for example, where I was designated a Commandeur de la Cole d'azur's Gastronomy. But my smile froze when a restaurant full of sophisticated French folk fervently toasted the United States.

EVERYWHERE I drove among farmers and working people I found corroboration of what I had learned in Paris. The Communist party had hit a new low—especial.

The 'Changing' Trend

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Changing tastes are keeping step today with changing incomes. And Americans are handling their take-home pay differently than a little while back. This is affecting the whole economy as 1960 wears on.

Many are holding back for a bit on buying big ticket items to the dismay of their manufacturers and of such basic industries as steel. Many are spending more on goods that don't last very long to the delight of those eager to replace them.

Some Americans are even saving a bit more of their larger incomes, perhaps because they aren't too sure the economy is going to go once it gets off dead center.

But the American liking for the new is as evident as ever. And businessmen who have come out with new products, or better or more snappy versions of the old have been reaping the profits.

This goes for those selling the cameras around every other tourist's neck or making the compact cars that were the belles of the 1960 ball.

The smaller cars have had more than just novelty appeal. Their lower prices and operation costs have left more for growing families to spend on the goods and activities that mark a new way of life—a slowly changing standard of living.

Americans are spending more of their money for things that make life pleasanter or cut into labor time at home or the office. There are more Americans able to do this. One big trend of the postwar years has been the growth of the middle income class. More families have more to spend than did their parents.

At first this spurred the big ticket industries as newcomers to the middle-income group bought cars and homes and all the appliances that made life easier.

They also married younger and had larger families. But as these families grow up, the amount that to their preselected rendezvous with the revolution.

EACH PARTY CELL was supposed to produce 200 Red hots. The party leadership found an average of 40 in each unit. Another order went out. The next day there was an average of 20. The third day most of them went Whitsunide fishing.

By the time deadline for action and mass demonstration rolled in, the Communist party could put but 120,000 in the streets of Paris for a mass protest.

They had a million members in the "Red belt" around Paris itself. They had threatened to muster several million. They couldn't even get themselves arrested, they made so little noise.

Since then they have been able to keep but 17,000 of their original 36,000 cells operative.

At the height of power, they ran 9,000 factory cells. Now they have 5,000 such industrial units.

Fewer than ever are actually paying dues and taking party discipline.

In '58, the Communist party of France had 46,000 members. Today it has 260,000.

THERE IS, of course, no lack of money for party operations. Ironically a good deal of this gold comes not from Communist Moscow but from capitalist America and many of our allies.

All those in France, and many in the U.S., who wish to do business with Poland, Czechoslovakia or the U.S.S.R. itself must go through special commercial houses and agencies set up by the Communist party in France.

They get a commission on such transactions. This enables the party to keep going without running the danger of financial couriers or camouflaged businessmen being exposed as the conduit of Moscow gold by the sagacious Surete Nationale.

It was Lenin who said that when the Communists are ready to hang the capitalists, they'll try to outbid each other for the sale of the rope to Russia.

We could win more quickly if we didn't make it so much easier for the enemy.

Law and Justice

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Trial Proves More About Soviets than Powers

The Communist dictatorship in Moscow, by its conduct of the Powers trial, has unwittingly disgraced itself in the eyes of the world where the words law and justice are understood.

The mere mitigation of the sentence from the death penalty to 10 years is not the true measure of the Soviet's spectacular piece of propaganda. It is the revelation to people everywhere that in the Soviet Union millions of innocent persons are constantly punished without benefit of a fair trial — without a jury, without a chance to select counsel of their own to cross-examine witnesses and without a chance to appeal to a higher court.

The whole thing was a carefully rehearsed piece of stagecraft and gives every appearance of either "brainwashing" or intimidation of the defendant, forcing him to say things that his so-called counsel probably told him to say in order to help reduce the severity of his sentence.

The defense counsel in his closing speech referred vaguely to a "preliminary investigation" which took place sometime during the 108 days of Powers' solitary confinement.

Nobody knows what "written testimony" he gave during that time. Contrary to custom in civilized governments, no American Embassy representative was allowed to see Powers.

As the Moscow correspondent of Reuters News Service — a British press association — puts it, the "script" was all prepared in advance. He writes:

"There was too much agreement among all parties here, too many expected lines without even the need of a prompter. This was 'socialist legality.' Nobody seemed to miss his cue."

So afraid were the Communists that Powers might miscue that they kept his family away from him before the trial. He did not even know that his wife and parents had come halfway around the world to see him — till their appearance in court.

The Powers family disclosed that messages they had sent to the prisoner were not delivered to him. What were the Communists afraid of? That Powers, who had been carefully rehearsed for the part he was to play in the trial, might break down emotionally and spoil the show? The Reuters correspondent continues:

"Each session of the three-day trial fitted a Westerner's conception of a theatrical presentation. The ring of reality often faded from the scene in the magnificent Hall of Columns."

For a young man who said he never had been interested in anything political, who didn't know when there was to be a "summit" conference, and who had never voted, though he is 31 years old, some of his statements to the court sounded as if they had been prepared for him, as, for instance, the following:

"I realize I have committed a grave crime and I realize I must be punished for it. . . . I do not feel nor have I ever felt any enmity whatsoever for the Russian people."

All this was doubtless planned as a bit of political propaganda to go over the air waves. But somehow the United States didn't fall for it.

President Eisenhower said publicly that the sentence was "severe."

The Communists had expected that their alleged show of leniency would win them friends and sympathy throughout the world.

THE COMMUNIST strategy on this point was disclosed in a broadcast afterward from behind the Iron Curtain which said:

"The sentence will be an unpleasant surprise for many elements in the United States. They would have liked to have seen Powers dead and buried."

Why did the Soviets, who are known for their cruelty, give Powers a 10-year sentence? They realize perhaps that their own spies are constantly being caught in America and that never has the death penalty been imposed.

Maybe they are afraid their spies will not get off so easily in the future. The United States has caught 21 Russians spying and all but three were simply told to go home. Two were given suspended sentences and ordered to leave. Only one was imprisoned.

What about Powers himself now? Opinions differ as to how far he can be considered responsible for what he said at the trial. The Reuters correspondent in Moscow makes this significant comment:

"The Western diplomats and press corps seemed to be more personally involved than the Russians. For instance, a feeling of animosity built up among some Westerners when Powers confessed the espionage and blamed 'the people who sent me.'"

"This, they thought, is not how a soldier should behave if, in fact, as the Russians claimed, he was a military man."

The mystery of the Powers testimony may never be solved. But the whole world now knows more than it ever did before about so-called Soviet law and justice.

'Taxation Without Representation'

The letter, published in the Saturday issue of the Salem News, written by eight members of the Joint Tax Committee, causes me to break a personal life-long rule and finally write a "From Our Readers" letter.

The writer is representative of what may soon be termed a second-class citizen. Apparently we are to be taxed by the city, but it will be "taxation without representation." It matters not to us what court rulings on similar taxation have been. It can be recalled that the courts of that day ruled against the Boston Tea Party.

We who are suburban pay as high a realty tax as do the citizens of Salem. We provide our water supply and sewage disposal at a cost equal to or greater than Salem's. Taxed by the city, we are not advantaged by Salem's fine fire department.

In the past the average citizens have patronized Salem's stores; supported her churches; contributed to her welfare funds, Community Chest, etc. I am certain the purchasing powers of this group will be about the same, and that their desire to participate in church groups and welfare work will not abate.

Salem's loss of a substantial part of this business and community interest will be appreciated in surrounding townships. Those who are honestly concerned in Salem need not wonder what happened come the next 15 months.

Matter of Fact

Men were shooting dice before they were writing history. Strange, dice were invented separately by many of the ancients—Egypt of 2,000 years before Christ, China, and even prehistoric America. Unlike our modern game of "craps," dicepools were generally used. And there were dice specially made for cheating. Such loaded dice have been found in the oldest excavations.

So They Say

The (election) campaign, the Republicans notwithstanding, has not begun. It will begin after the people's business is attended to. —Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

We've got to quit thinking of the farm problem as something the farmer created. We must recognize that the farmer got in the box he presently is in as a result of government. . . . Government must pay the cost to get him out. —Vice President Nixon.

Barbs

It won't be long until Mom will be putting up that tasty home-made catsup. That'll be using the ol' tomato! Often a fellow's taking a girl into his arms leads to having her on his hands.

The news invites letters from its readers on all important current topics, but the letters should be brief, not to exceed 200 words and they must bear the signature and address of the writer to insure publication. Unsigned letters can not be published.

The oldest married couple was Mr. and Mrs. Martin Houk and the youngest, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tillia, both of Wampam.

The table committee was comprised of Mrs. William Lippert and Mrs. Warren Everhart of Salem. Grace was given by Waldon Leggett of Wampam. Carl Bartholow played accordion selections.

Winners in the contests conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Everhart of Salem were Jimmy Watt, Harvey Boley, Dianne Everhart, Tommy Posey and Mrs. Margaret Day. The 75th reunion will be held at the same place on Aug. 20, 1961.

Mrs. Larry Hepler

First Friends Church Scene Of Planchock-Hepler Nuptials

Larry Hepler and his bride, the former Miss Judy Planchock, are on a honeymoon trip to the New England States.

The couple was married Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Friends Church. The Rev. Harold B. Winn officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Planchock of North Georgetown, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford J. Hepler of RD 1, Hanoverton.

Schefflera and grape ivy were combined with palms and ferns in decorating the altar, which was enhanced by two vases of white gladioli and mums. Tapers in twin seven-branch candelabra lighted the chancel.

Mrs. Walter Christensen presided at the organ, and Miss Barbara Earley sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The brides floor-length gown of nylon organza was fashioned with a fitted bodice with bracelet-length sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Bands of Chantilly lace sprinkled with sequins and seed pearls trimmed the Sabrina neckline and the skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a queen's crown of organza and lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Betty Kibler was matron of honor. With her gown of pink brocade taffeta designed with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt, she wore a matching picture hat and carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white carnations.

The Misses Marianne Planchock and Ellen Planchock, sisters of the bride, and Miss Mary Ann Thomas were bridesmaids. They wore dresses like Mrs. Kibler's and carried cascades of pink and white carnations. Each of the attendants wore a crystal necklace, a gift of the bride.

Kenneth Hepler was his brother's best man. Another brother, Milford Hepler Jr., Ted Albright, a nephew of the bridegroom, and Harold Kibler ushered.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue silk sheath with pink accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Hepler was dressed in beige lace with beige accessories, and she wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

A reception was held in the church social room. A three-tiered cake centered the refreshment table, which was laid with white linens. White tapers in crystal holders flanked the cake that was garlanded by greens and white carnation flowers.

Mrs. Lloyd Parker was assisted in serving by Mrs. Dale McClurg, Mrs. Charles Krebs and Miss Carolyn Houlette.

RECENT BRIDES — At left above is Mrs. Paul N. Young, the former Norine Edythe Vymazal of Berlin Center; and at right is Mrs. Ronald Edgar Zoz, the former Anne Hobe of Damascus. The photographs on Monday's social page were accidentally transposed. The Vymazal-Young vows were heard at the East Goshen Friends Church Saturday. The Hobe-Zoz nuptials were held in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church here Sunday afternoon.

Guilford Lake Couple Wed Fifty Years

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Williamson of Guilford Lake will be celebrated Sunday with an open house reception from 2 to 5 p.m. at their home.

Friends and relatives are invited. Mr. Williamson and the former Mary Huffman were married Aug. 27, 1910, in Grafton, W. Va.

The golden anniversary event is being planned by the couple's children, Mrs. George Bartels of Cleveland, George D. Williamson Jr. of Columbiana, Paul Williamson of Cleveland and Nedra Lutz of Guilford Lake.

Damascus

The McDaniel family reunion was held at Westville Lake recently with President Fred White of Beloit in charge.

Mrs. Clinton Fryogle of Beloit and Mrs. Linda Richenbrod of Lake Placencia composed the table committee. A birthday cake was presented Mrs. Jessie Boals of Sebring, Fla., by her immediate family.

Mrs. Clyde Barclay, Secretary of Missionary Education of the Steubenville District of the WSCS presided at a seminar at the Methodist Church in Richmond.

Other officers attending from here were Mrs. C. G. Long, Mrs. Morlan Hole and Mrs. A.E. Bailey. Myrtle Williams Missionary Auxiliary of the Damascus Friends Church were guests of the Esther Butler Auxiliary of the Salem First Friends Church Thursday at Centennial Park.

Talks were given by the Rev. Charles Haworth and the Rev. Lawrence Linton, both of Salem, followed by games in charge of Miss Mary Herbert.

The Rev. and Mrs. George Schroeder left Thursday after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Steer.

Mrs. George Thiess of Salem called on Mrs. C. E. Hobson Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parsons entertained the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Overly of Alliance and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Sell of Northville, Pa., at dinner Wednesday.

Mrs. L. G. Spencer and daughters, Mrs. Paul Bayless, and Vera Spencer visited Mr. and Mrs. Claremont Terrelle of Akron Tuesday.

Mrs. Cecil Beardsley of Ellsworth spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Spencer.

Mrs. Curt Mosher and Mrs. Edward Ramsayer are camping at Guilford Lake.

Statistical reports were given when the Damascus Friends monthly business meeting was held Thursday.

The average Sunday School attendance for the year was 308. Church membership was 366.

Wedding Announced

Mrs. Richard Lee Elias

Announcements have been issued revealing the marriage of Miss Donna Jean Blender and Richard Lee Elias, which took place May 14 in Richmond, Ind.

The former Miss Blender is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blender of 933 Morris Ave. Mr. Elias is a son of Mrs. Fred Dettmer of Orlando, Fla., and Ernest Elias of Cleveland.

Mrs. Elias was graduated in June from Ohio University, where she received a bachelor of science degree in education. Mr. Elias attended Ohio University and served three years with the Airforce in France.

Farmers Bank Shuts Out Class F All-Stars, 3-0

Kresge Whips Home Furniture; Class E All-Star Tilt Cancelled

Pitchers Wayne Washington and George Begalla combined to hurl a four-hit shutout as loop champion Farmers Bank beat the Class F All-Stars 30 Monday night at Kelley Field.

The Class E All-Star game with Deming CIO was called off as several of the players were unable to take part in the game because of previous commitments. The fray had been scheduled for Sunday but was postponed until last night because of rain.

Deming CIO did play an exhibition game last night against a few of the All-Stars and some other league members who were pressed into service. Deming's won the unofficial game by a 7-1 score as Tom Owen pitched a no-hitter.

IN A REGULARLY scheduled Class H game played at Kelly Field last night, powerful Kresge proved its superiority in the loop as it knocked off its chief rival, Home Furniture by an 18-4 score. The victory gives Kresge a 9-0 season record while Home Furniture is 10-2. Both Home Furniture defeats were at the hands of Kresge.

Sparkling pitching featured the Class F All-Star game. Each team collected but four hits. A total of 30 strikeouts were recorded in the seven-inning fray, 15 by each side. Washington hurled the first five innings for Farmers Bank, giving up three hits, striking out 11 and walking none. Begalla worked the last two frames. He yielded just one hit while fanning four and walking one.

HILTON MOFFETT and Jan Steele of Youngstown Kitchens and Jim Lantz of Electric Furnace hurled for the All-Stars. Moffett, the starter, gave up two of Farmer's three runs and was tagged with the loss. Steele pitched three innings of hitless ball. Lantz gave up one run to Farmers while hurling the seventh frame.

Washington collected two of Farmers' four hits. Tom Hall, Clyde Stoffer, Chip Mosher and Jim Garrett hit safely for the losers.

Val Altomare smacked a first inning homer and Walt Simpson spun a four-hitter to lead Kresge to its 18-4 win over Home Furniture. The losers were charged with 10 errors in the four-inning fray.

Tribe Opens Eastern Swing At Boston

BOSTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians opened an eastern invasion against the Boston Red Sox tonight, hoping to improve on their road trip which so far has resulted in four defeats.

Manager Jimmie Dykes had more woes to add to the team's disastrous slump. Vic Power has a sore thumb and Jimmy Piersall is suffering a strained groin. Both are doubtful starters for the game here.

"I'd like to play Bubba Phillips at third, move Ken Aspromonte to second and give Johnny Temple a rest," said Dykes. "But I can't do it if Power and Piersall are out."

"Then I'd have to move Tito Francona to first base and use both Phillips and Marty Keough in the outfield."

Temple, a star second baseman with the Cincinnati Reds, played under Dykes when the cigar-smoking round man was a coach and later a manager of the National League team. Temple, hitting only .270 and fielding erratically, is one of the Indians' biggest disappointments.

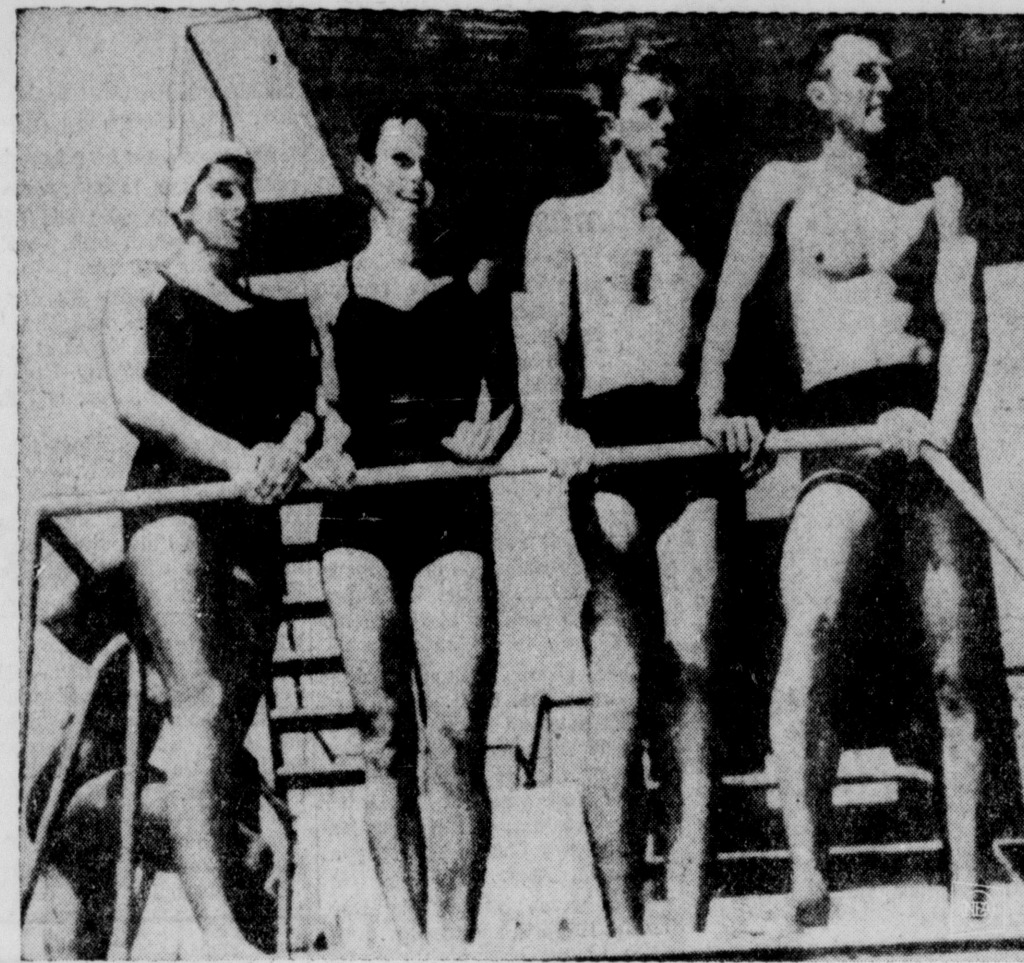

"The difference between day and night," Dykes said. "He seems to be fighting himself over here."

"I know what kind of a ball player he is and I know he'll come out of it. Maybe a few days of rest will do him some good."

Bobby Locke (1-3) drew the starting assignment tonight against Boston's Billy Muffett (4-12).

Sherry's Relief Job Earns L.A. 8-5 Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

As a would-be starting pitcher, Larry Sherry is a loser every time he wins.

The young right-hander simply has proved too valuable in relief for the Los Angeles Dodgers to get a real shot as a starter. At the moment, he is their top winner, collecting his 13th victory with 7 1-3 innings of three-hit relief Monday night as the Dodgers came from behind to beat San Francisco 8-5.

With the top three clubs idle, the fourth-place Dodgers picked up a half-game, but still trail first-place Pittsburgh by 8½. They are .003 percentage points behind third-place St. Louis.

In the only other game Monday the Chicago Cubs whipped Cincinnati 6-3. The Cubs also handed Billy Martin, the Reds' second baseman, a $1,040,000 damage suit in the August 4 fracas that sidelined pitcher Jim Brewer with a broken cheek.

The Dodgers, trailing 4-2 after the Giants got rid of starter Don Drysdale in the second inning, took over with three runs in the third against loser Stu Miller, then counted the winning run in the fourth as Norm Larker singled for his third RBI. Larker, 3-for-4 in the Dodgers' 10-hit attack, padded his league leading average to .349. Gil Hodges homered for the final Dodger run in the seventh. It was his seventh of the season, the 352nd of his career. That broke a tie with Ralph Kiner as the NL's all-time champ among right-handed hitters.

The Cubs beat the Reds and Cal McLish (4-9) with four runs in the first inning. Three were unearned. Don Zimmer, who drove in three runs with a triple and double, and rookie Ron Santo, who had two doubles and a single, combined for five RBI. Bob Anderson (7-7) was the winning pitcher, but needed relief help.

Cubs, Brewer Slap Big Law Suit on Martin

CHICAGO (AP) — Brawling Billy Martin, the scrappy Cincinnati second-baseman who Monday was sued for $1,040,000 by the Chicago Cubs and rookie pitcher Jim Brewer, could be contemplating a counter-suit.

Martin indicated there was the possibility of a counter-suit after he was served with a notice shortly before Monday's game between the Redlegs and the Cubs at Wrigley Field.

The action stems from a brawl Aug. 4 in which Martin slugged Brewer, charging that the Cub pitcher was throwing at his head.

The Cubs and Brewer, who has been hospitalized since being punched, are asking $260,000 each in actual damages and an additional $260,000 each in punitive damages.

Brewer, a 22-year-old from Broken Arrow, Okla., has had two operations involving the orbital bone of his right eye. Physicians say he's out for this year and that he is to stay away from all athletic activity during the winter which also means he cannot referee basketball this year.

Martin's first remark after being served with the notice was: "I wonder if they want this in cash or by check."

Later he indicated the possibility of a counter-suit, claiming that Brewer and the Cubs had endangered his career "because Brewer was throwing at my head. I have no doubt of that."

The complaint, filed in circuit court of Cook County, said Brewer suffered a loss in the opportunity to engage in professional baseball and therefore lost great earning power, has suffered bodily harm requiring hospitalization, operations and other extensive medical expense.

The club charges it has lost the valuable services of the pitcher for an indeterminate length of time and has suffered loss in his training, development and future services.

Following the battle in which other players were involved, Martin was suspended five days and fined $500 by National League President Warren Giles.

Olympics Start Thursday

U.S. Track, Cage Squads Hit Rome

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP)—Two of America's potential worldbeating teams — track and basketball — arrive today on an Olympic Games scene churning with concern and expectancy.

Browns Send Bob Jarus To Green Bay

Paul Brown has shown his confidence in two Cleveland Browns rookies—prentice Gault and Jamie Caleb—by trading Bob Jarus of Purdue to Green Bay.

The departure of the Cleveland boy to the Packers for a future draft choice was announced Monday. Caleb, from Grambling College, has been shifted to fullback behind Jim Brown and will work with the kickoff and punt return units.

Gault, the former fullback star at Oklahoma, has been working at left halfback, but having his troubles getting adjusted to the Cleveland style of play.

Coach Brown, however, is confident that Gault has the ability to do the job once he catches up. He was with the College All-Stars all last month.

Both he and Caleb may see offensive action against the Los Angeles Rams Saturday night.

Fullback Brown has been bothered by a bruised chest for about 10 days. He suffered the injury in a collision with rookie Jim Marshall of Ohio State in practice. Marshall injured his hand in last Thursday's game at Pittsburgh, but both he and Brown took part in Monday's workout.

Bob Gain, the veteran defensive tackle, limped off the field with a groin injury and is a doubtful starter for the exhibition on the West Coast. If he is sidelined the job will go to rookie Larry Stephens of Texas.

LITTLE LIZ

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by the father of the bride-to-be. Elsie is 29 years old and she's a good girl. Any man should be happy to have her for a wife.

Elsie has had a few mild attacks of appendicitis in the past few years. The doctor said an operation is not necessary. She also has to have some new bridgework.

My future son-in-law wrote me a registered letter asking that I have my daughter's teeth fixed and her appendix removed before the wedding. He says this expense should fall on the father and not on the husband. What do you say? —IN DOUBT.

Dear In: Is the man buying a horse or marrying a woman?

His suggestion that his fiancée have an operation which the doctor thinks is unnecessary (just to save him money) is so crass and insulting that perhaps your daughter ought to reconsider her decision. She should have her teeth taken care of when the need arises, however, which is now.

Double Jeopardy

Dear Ann: You have a wise head on those 41-year-old shoulders. When you told that woman NOT to remarry her former husband I applauded wildly.

I was married to a charming, amusing, irresponsible skunk. He lied to me, cheated, squandered my small inheritance and then ran off with the night nurse while I was in the hospital. I divorced him and it took me two years to recover. Just when I began to feel like a human being again this crumbum appeared on the scene. His nurse had left him and he was "free." He worked his old black magic, begged me to remarry him and like a fool I did.

To make a long story short, I had the same old problems, only doubled in spades. After a year of misery I threw in the sponge.

Please, Ann, keep telling women that once they unload a no-goodnik to be smart enough to remember what the past was like.—BOMBED TWICE.

Dear Bombed: Thanks for your interesting letter. I have known some exceptions to this rule but by and large your position is a sound one.

P. S.: That head is now on 42-year-old shoulders. I just added one!

Spendthrift Mate

Dear Ann: My husband is a hard-working, easy-going man, adores the children and there's no other woman — unless he's Superman.

The problem is, he has no responsibility where money is concerned, yet he feels HE should handle the finances as a matter of self-respect.

We both work. He makes $6,000 a year. I make $4,000. He has the crazy idea that if he ignores a bill it is as good as paid. I had to go to work four years ago to keep our house from being taken away.

I pay the essential bills, phone, insurance, food and clothing. He is supposed to take care of the mortgage payments but is always "in a spot."

I don't know where his money goes. He says if he handed ALL the money, he'd feel more like a man and would manage it better. I know if he had ALL the money he'd just spend it all.

What do you suggest?—E.P.J.

Dear E.P.J.: Let him handle ALL the money for one month. See how he does. He may surprise you. If he runs true to form, have an understanding that YOU are to handle all the money after that. It's worth the try.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In The Service

Pvt. Donald E. Maloney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Maloney of 278 S. Ellsworth Ave., is spending a two-week furlough with his parents after completing eight weeks of basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. After completing his leave, Pvt. Maloney will report to the Army's Military Police School at Fort Gordon, Ga., for eight weeks of military police training and will then be assigned to the 521st Military Police Co. at Fort Belvoir, Va.

During basic training Donald was awarded a marksman badge for rifle marksmanship and also received a certificate of merit from his commanding officer for being an honor graduate of his training company. Pvt. Maloney enlisted in the regular Army for a three-year period after graduating from Salem High School in June.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

True Chill Is Teeth-Chattering, Serious

If you've ever had a true chill you don't have to be told of the difference between feeling chilly and actually suffering a shaking, teeth-chattering chill. It's something of the order of the difference between a rather stiff breeze and a hurricane.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

Now the odd part of the chill is the fact that its most prominent characteristic is a temperature elevation to somewhere between 104 and 112 degrees F.

Why, then, you ask, does the body react to high fever with a mechanism that's usually associated with low to freezing temperatures?

Like many questions that should be easy to answer, this one is what John Steinbeck's characters would ask. The answer is that the body reacts to high fever with a mechanism that's usually associated with low to freezing temperatures.
